Journalism and Mass Communication Degree

Major Code: 011164A01

This program offers comprehensive training for careers in journalism and communications. Students learn how to create journalistic content for a variety of media platforms, including print, broadcast and online. The program covers news writing and reporting, public relations writing and techniques, photojournalism, and multimedia journalism. It also offers instruction in design and production for both print and online media products.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this program, the student will be able to:

• write and edit news, features, editorials, and press releases that adhere to professional journalistic standards for a variety of outlets.
• conduct research and evaluate information using appropriate methods.
• analyze and evaluate media materials for credibility, fairness, accuracy, appropriate style and grammatical correctness.
• apply journalism ethics and law appropriate to professional practice.
• complete journalistic assignments on deadline.
• create multimedia to accompany text news and feature stories in a variety of formats.
• design, develop and lay out pages for different types of publications using a variety of software programs and applying visual design principles.
• identify and explain the processes, elements, history, theory, and effects of journalism and modern mass media in society.

Career Opportunities

This program is designed to train students for entry-level positions as reporters, writers, editors, producers, photographers, designers, copy editors, and fact checkers for newspapers, magazines, broadcast outlets, websites and other media platforms. It also trains them for entry-level communications/public relations positions that include writing, editing, photography, and/or page layout and design duties. Some career options may require more than two years of college study. This program prepares journalism/mass communications students who plan to transfer to four-year institutions.

Journalism and Mass Communication A.A. for Transfer Degree

Major Code, CSU GE: 011168A01
Major Code, IGETC: 011168A02

The Associate in Arts in Journalism for Transfer provides students with a major that fulfills the general requirements of the California State University for transfer. Students with this degree will receive priority admission with junior status to the California State University system.

The Associate in Arts in Journalism for Transfer (A.A.-T) may be obtained by the completion of 60 transferable, semester units with a minimum of a 2.0 GPA, including (a) the major or area of emphasis described in the Required Program outlined below (earning a C or better in these courses), and (b) either the Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum (IGETC) or the California State University General Education Breadth Requirements.

Students interested in transferring to a CSU campus to pursue a bachelor’s degree in Journalism should meet with a counselor to confirm the courses required for lower division preparation in the major.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this program, the student will be able to:

• analyze content of newspapers, magazines, and online media.
• demonstrate an understanding of basic news, feature writing, and reporting in print and on-line media.
• critique his or her own journalistic work and the work of others.
• apply knowledge of grammar and AP style to create mass media products that conform to journalistic conventions.
• produce news and feature articles and/or news and feature photographs for publication in a newspaper or on-line publication.
• apply principles of audience and journalistic ethics to writing and photography, especially as the student’s journalistic work relates to gender, ethnicities, and culture.
• demonstrate understanding of the fundamentals of mass media theories, concepts, and practices as they relate to gender, ethnicity, and cultural constructs.

Career Opportunities

The Journalism AA-T degree prepares students for careers in print, broadcast, and online news media.
