Human Services
| American River College

The Human Services program provides preparation for employment as a paraprofessional aide with agencies such as correctional institutions, parole, probation, welfare, rehabilitation, mental health, schools, and childcare centers.

A special option is Chemical Dependency Studies, which provides preparation for paraprofessional work with public or private agencies dealing with problems of chemical dependency.

- differentiate treatment issues of drug and alcohol use, misuse, abuse, and addiction
- describe treatment methods and counseling approaches of drug and alcohol use, misuse, abuse, and addiction

HSER 360 Techniques of Interviewing and Counseling

This course is a survey of interview and counseling techniques appropriate for paraprofessionals in mental health, corrections, and substance abuse counseling. It includes theories of family co-dependency and techniques for counseling the family and significant others of substance abusers.

Student Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to:

- evaluate techniques for interviewing and counseling
- analyze and apply appropriate approaches in dealing with a variety of human problems
- demonstrate an awareness of one's own reactions to clients, based on one's own past experiences
- demonstrate the techniques of interviewing and counseling appropriate for associate level helpers in social service agency settings

HSER 362 Practices in Human Services
This course provides advanced study and applied integration of human services theory to prepare students for field experience. Techniques applying concepts, values, and skills acquired in other core courses to the process of helping others are covered.

Student Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to:

- apply the principles of the twelve core functions of counseling for successful employment in the fields of human services and/or chemical dependency
- evaluate ethical and legal issues related to interventions with individuals, groups, organizations and communities in generalist practices and chemical dependency
- demonstrate accurate client charting and documentation
- demonstrate cultural sensitivity in working with diverse client populations
- differentiate among the community resources used for referring clients.
- integrate personal growth and development goals with professional growth and development goals

HSER 365 Techniques of Group Counseling

This course covers the basic elements of group counseling. Ethical issues are compared and analyzed. Emphasis is on the use of facilitating skills and group dynamics.

Student Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to:

- evaluate the general goals of the group counseling experience
- analyze ethical and professional issues in group experiences
- describe rights of group participants and/or obligations of group leaders
- demonstrate multiple group techniques of counseling
- analyze the theoretical and practical approaches used by successful group leaders
- demonstrate growth in self-understanding and in communicating with others
HSER 495 Independent Studies in Human Services

Independent Study is an opportunity for the student to extend classroom experience in this subject, while working independently of a formal classroom situation. Independent study is an extension of work offered in a specific class in the college catalog. To be eligible for independent study, students must have completed the basic regular catalog course at American River College. They must also discuss the study with a professor in this subject and secure approval. Only one independent study for each catalog course will be allowed.

HSER 498 Work Experience in Human Services

This course provides students with opportunities to develop marketable skills in preparation for employment or advancement within the field of human services. It is designed for students interested in work experience and/or internships in transfer-level degree occupational programs. Course content includes understanding the application of education to the workforce, completion of Title 5 required forms which document the student's progress and hours spent at the work site, and developing workplace skills and competencies.

During the semester, the student is required to complete 75 hours of related paid work experience, or 60 hours of related unpaid work experience for one unit. An additional 75 or 60 hours of related work experience is required for each additional unit. All students are required to attend the first class meeting, a mid-semester meeting, and a final meeting. Additionally, students who have not already successfully completed a Work Experience course will be required to attend weekly orientations while returning participants may meet individually with the instructor as needed. Students may take up to 16 units total across all Work Experience course offerings. This course may be taken up to four times when there are new or expanded learning objectives. Only one Work Experience course may be taken per semester.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to:

- demonstrate application of industry knowledge and theoretical concepts in the field of human services related to a transfer degree level career as written in the minimum three (3) learning objectives created by the student and his/her employer or work site supervisor at the start of the course

- make effective decisions, use workforce information, and manage his/her personal career plans.

- behave professionally, ethically, and legally at work, consistent with applicable laws, regulations, and organizational norms.

- behave responsibly at work, exhibiting initiative and self-management in situations where it is needed.

- apply effective leadership styles at work, with consideration to group dynamics, team and individual decision making, and workforce diversity.

- communicate in oral, written, and other formats, as needed, in a variety of contexts at work.

- locate, organize, evaluate, and reference information at work.
- demonstrate originality and inventiveness at work by combining ideas or information in new ways, making connections between seemingly unrelated ideas, and reshaping goals in ways that reveal new possibilities using critical and creative thinking skills such as logical reasoning, analytical thinking, and problem-solving.
